

May Invited To Testify In Public About "War Profits"

Washington, July 12 (P) — The Senate War Investigating committee today formally invited Rep. May (D-Ky) to testify in public on his activities in connection with a chain of Illinois munitions makers.

The committee said the explanation May gave in an executive session June 4 did not furnish the "full and accurate facts."

Chairman Mead (D-NY) read the letter of invitation as the committee resumed its inquiry into the affairs of the combine promoted by Henry Garsson, one time internal revenue agent.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) termed the letter to the chairman of the House Military committee "only the first step" toward getting May's testimony on the record.

Hints At Subpoena

He added that the second step—presumably if May declined to appear—"should be a subpoena."

Garsson said he was "rarin' to go" to present his case.

"I am ready to say a lot of things," the ex-internal revenue agent told newsmen after hearing Chairman Mead (D-NY) describe testimony thus far as beyond the pen of "the most imaginative writer of fiction."

Garsson waited much of yesterday afternoon while the committee questioned Albert W. Jacobson, who rose from a $1,620 a year War Department job as clerk-typist to consultant in the legal branch of the Chemical Warfare Service at $9,975 a year.

Jacobson told the committee his duties included review of millions of dollars of advance payments to Garsson's munitions combine.

He also testified that Chairman May (D-Ky) of the House Military committee had recommended that he be reinstated to the District of Columbia bar, from which he resigned under "pressure."

Denies Personal Profits

May has acknowledged interceding with the War Department for the Garsson interests, but has denied any personal profit.

Developments outside the hearing room included:

1. President Truman told his news conference that Mead's War Investigation committee has his full support in its profit probing. Mr. Truman used to head the committee when he was a senator.

2. Benjamin F. Fields, Washington press agent accused by Senator Mitchell (D-Wash) of offering him a $5,000 bribe to "lay off" the case, told reporters he was merely trying to help a friend. Fields, also summoned to testify today, said he had talked with Mitchell but denied that any money was mentioned. He said he had no connection with the munitions combine but was trying to help the combine's Washington agent, Joe Freeman.

Jacobson testified he resigned from the bar on January 2, 1939, because of "pressure on me to stay away from the publicity of a disbarment proceeding."

May Helped Jacobson

He said he had "done nothing wrong" but there might have been "some reason to criticize me" in connection with one of three charges raised by the Bar Association's grievance committee. This, he said, had to do with the handling of funds in an estate case, although "nobody lost any money." Asserting the two other charges were groundless, he declared:

"That is the first fight I ever ran from in my life, and it's the last one I'll ever run from."

Jacobson testified he had met May casually several times in hotel lobbies or restaurants. While seeking reinstatement as a lawyer last year, he said, he asked May for a letter of recommendation.

He declared in response to questions that May's "humanitarian" service in writing one had no connection with his approval of government payments to the Garsson companies.

BULLETINS

Warsaw, July 12 (P)—The slaying of 22 Jews attempting to flee a new wave of persecution in Poland was reported today as the government prepared to execute nine persons convicted of instigating the bloody July 4 pogrom at Kielce. Meanwhile August Cardinal Hlond placed responsibility for "dangerous tensions" in Poland upon Jewish governmental officials.

New York, July 12 (P)—Australia's proposal for an autonomous world atomic control agency which would maintain only one ultimate link with the United Nations Security Council apparently was doomed today under the threat of Russian veto when and if it reaches the council.

EAGLES HOST TO VETERANS ON THURSDAY

Fifty-five of the 163 members of the Gettysburg Lodge of Eagles who served in the armed forces during World War II were guests of the lodge at a welcome home dinner Thursday evening at the Battlefield Hotel.

Each veteran was presented with a leather billfold "as an expression of the lodge's appreciation for services during the war."

Judge W. C. Sheely spoke briefly commending the veterans for their war services. He told them that while they fought to preserve the democratic form of government folks on the home front also served to maintain and preserve the home community. He urged the veterans to join in preserving community spirit and unity. He also told them that they had "more than earned the right to have a voice in government."

Preserve The Peace

The local jurist said that preservation of the peace can be accomplished through law and order or by force but that the best and most effective way of preserving the peace is through law and order. He also declared that international ills and obstacles could be overcome through the same procedure.

Judge Sheely invited the veterans to attend the welcome home celebration here August 14. He said that the local lodge of Eagles was the first to give financial encouragement to the county-wide program by voting an appropriation of $500 which was followed by similar donations from other fraternal organizations.

Bernard Stock, recently discharged as a captain in the armed forces, spoke briefly.

John H. Baschore and Paul L. Roy were introduced as guests.

A social hour followed the four course fried chicken dinner.

SIX ACCIDENT CASES TREATED

Six persons were treated at the Warner hospital for injuries received in accidents Thursday.

Dennis Little, Gettysburg R. 5, suffered fractures of three bones in his left foot received in a fall of about 12 feet from a barn floor. He was X-rayed and discharged.

Harold Adams, Johnstown, who fell from a roof, suffered a fracture of his left arm. He was also X-rayed and discharged.

Mrs. John Slaybaugh, Aspers R. 1, received treatment for a puncture wound of her right foot received when she stepped on a nail. She was later discharged.

Paul Sanders, 24, 309 Buford avenue, received treatment for a contusion of the left knee received when he fell with a cake of ice. He was X-rayed and discharged.

Thomas Hess, 14, Chambersburg street, was X-rayed for an injured left leg and was then discharged.

Motorist Charged After Hitting Cow

Vernie Criswell, Jr., Gettysburg R. 4, faces two charges by state police as a result of an accident in which he was involved Thursday evening about 8:15 o'clock on the Irish-town road about a mile and a half south of New Oxford.

Police said Criswell was driving toward New Oxford when he drove around a car that had already stopped to allow cattle of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sponseller to cross the highway. As he passed the waiting car, he struck a cow in the Sponseller herd causing damage of about $75 to his car. The cow was only slightly injured.

Police found Criswell does not have an operator's license and filed a charge on that count in addition to a reckless driving information.

Three Motorists Nabbed By Police

State police of the Gettysburg sub-station today reported the following arrests:

Kenneth E. Taylor, York, charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore with failure to keep to the right of the highway.

Delbert L. Haines, Waynesboro R. 3, charged before a Franklin county justice with failure to stop at a stop sign.

James V. Kercher, Kutztown, charged before Justice W. D. Brown Straban township with driving an overweight truck. According to state police Kercher had 19,700 pounds loaded on his truck when the allowed weight was 15,000 pounds.

Ten-day notices were sent in each case.

New shipment of dresses, juniors and large sizes, also slips, teacose. The Smart Shoppe, Carlisle Street.

"Sorry" Doesn't Ring Register

The enforcement of the parking meter ordinance requiring that car owners who receive tickets appear before Burgess C. A. Helges or Borough Treasurer John H. Baschore within 24 hours or otherwise remit their fines of $1 per violation within that stated period of time is not only bringing in many old tickets which receivers have been holding, but is bringing in some novel excuses.

Today a ticket was left at police headquarters in the Murphy building with the following notation penned on it: "I was only five minutes late, sorry." The "sorry" isn't going to ring the cash register. Failure to return a ticket within 24 hours and pay the $1 fine leaves the receiver open to an assessment of $10 and 27 cents costs.

Another motorist who received a red ticket several days ago wrote the police: "Due to working here, will bring in police card No. 1673 on Saturday, July 13, for meter violation."

Littlestown FIREMEN ORDER JET PUMP AFTER DEMONSTRATION

Members of the Alpha Fire company, Littlestown, acted on a number of items of business at their monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the fire engine house. The company voted to purchase an Accel-o-rate Jet Pump after seeing a demonstration by a representative from Cumberland, Md. This equipment will be valuable at country fires for drawing water from wells, creeks, and quarries, firemen said. With it, water can be lifted straight up a hundred feet.

Amidee Ecker reported for a committee which appeared before town council in regard to several matters. The borough fathers told the committee of firemen that $1,500 had been set aside in the present year's budget for the purchase of new hose and equipment for the firemen, and urged that the fire company repair sections of old hose in order that the borough might have as much hose as possible. The fire company committee had reported that six or seven sections of fire hose appeared to have leaked several feet back from the connections. They asked whether council thought it advisable to have the hose repaired or whether there were any provisions made for providing new hose for the new fire truck to be delivered in the near future. Council pointed out that while in the past it had been the custom of council to purchase a few sections of hose each year, due to the war it had not been possible to purchase hose of a good quality.

Engine House Rental

The fire company committee had also inquired why the council had retained the money received as rent for the fire house for the election. Councilmen explained that in the past the fire company had paid for the janitor's service and that it was believed that the income from rental of the engine house went to pay for the janitor's salary, and that now that the borough is paying the janitor's wages it was generally felt council should retain the rental for the engine house. Council pointed out that the janitor is now covered under the borough's compensation and that the borough owns the building. In the event that the fire company should decide to pay the salary of the janitor again the company would have to take out a separate compensation policy for the janitor other than the one now carried by the borough on the firemen, council was reported as saying. In addition to Mr. Ecker, the committee appearing before council included Charles W. Snyder and Harold W. Sparver.

A discussion was held on buying a dozen canvas raincoats. Monroe Stavelly, Kenneth Sentz, and Robert Koontz were appointed a committee to obtain prices, and report at the next meeting.

Three Fires in Month

Fire Chief J. Donald Baschore reported three fires the past month: At the John Kindig barn, grass fire on Patrick street, and the John Bloom Apparel store. The report of the new by-law's committee was deferred until the next meetings. Bills in the amount of $102.72 were ordered paid, and receipts for the evening were $228.

Five members were reported as having joined the Cumberland Valley Firemen's association: Wayne Arnold, Norman Hahn, Harry Storm, (Please Turn to Page 2)

Donald L. Rentzel Burned By Asphalt

Donald L. Rentzel, 33, 215 West Middle street, is a patient in the Carlisle hospital where he is suffering from severe burns of the arms and face received Wednesday afternoon when he was spattered with hot asphalt while working on a road project at Shippensburg. The accident occurred about 1:30 p. m.

Rentzel operates a tank truck and is reported to have been attaching nozzles to pressure outlets when he was sprayed with the hot fluid. He is employed by the Eastern Road Materials company of Baltimore.

The accident victim resides with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rentzel here.

MRS. AMOS KING EXPIRES TODAY

Mrs. Agnes E. King, 39, wife of Amos King, near Westover, Md., died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos C. Ogburn, Biglerville road, this morning at 6 o'clock from Hodgkins disease. She was ill about a year and was bedfast seven weeks.

She was born in Baden, North Dakota. Mrs. King was a member of the Holly Grove Mennonite church, near Westover, of which her husband is pastor.

In addition to her husband and parents she is survived by four children, Elmer E., Walter L., Ruby I., and Harry L., all at home; 10 brothers and sisters, Ira Ogburn, Aspers; Ray Ogburn, Hyattsville, Md.; Levi Ogburn, Biglerville road; Mrs. Elvin Merrill, Greenbackville, Va.; Forrest Ogburn, New Oxford; Mrs. G. I. Hartman and Mrs. Walter Collins, both of Aspers; Walter Ogburn, New Oxford; John M. Ogburn, Boswell, Pa., and Earl F. Ogburn, Powellsville, Md.

Brief funeral services from the Ogburn home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with further services at the Mummasburg Mennonite church at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in the church cemetery. Friends may call at the Ogburn home Saturday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

SAILOR DISCHARGED

Charles Marlin Miller, S 1/C, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller, Gettysburg R. 3, has received his discharge from the navy at Bainbridge, Md. He served two and one-half years, part of which was spent overseas.

Meat May Be Exempt From New Price Control Measure

Washington, July 12 (P)—A power drive to clinch price control exemptions for meat, milk and sundry other items gathered steam today as the Senate nudged an OPA revival bill toward passage.

Republicans got behind the new campaign after Barkley failed to rip from the measure provisions which Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said could prevent manufacturers from getting needed price increases.

The GOP objective was to compel the house to vote specifically on the various decontrols already ordered by the Senate. Administration leaders were worried over the outcome. They conceded privately that the house might go along and that President Truman again might feel compelled to toss out a veto.

This is the strategy, as outlined by Taft to a reporter:

Once the Senate passes its measure to bring OPA back to life in slimmer form, the bill will have to go to a conference committee so differences with the House can be straightened out.

(So far the House has passed only a bill to continue OPA until July 20 in its pre-death form.)

WEEDS ONE OF BEST CROPS ON COUNTY FARMS

Adams county is producing a bumper crop—but it is a crop of weeds.

That was the opinion today of at least one agricultural expert in commenting on reports that the nation, and most nearby counties are expecting bumper crops of farm products this year.

The wet weather earlier this year and the fact that many landowners have ignored state regulations in regard to cutting weeds before they cast out their seed to reproduce was blamed for much of the weed production.

Some wheat growers have cut their stand of wheat for hay because the wheat lost the fight against timothy and weeds.

Barley Crop "Fair"

While a fair barley crop was cut, the amount was not extraordinary, the same source commented.

A "good quantity" of peas were harvested, but the crop was described as "not a bumper crop by any count."

While weeds choked many fields, and other diseases brought their usual toll to other crops, the one crop probably in the most serious condition at the moment is tomatoes, he added. Today was described as a perfect day for the development of the potato late blight which has seriously infected the tomato fields and may wipe out much of the county's usually large production of the vegetable.

Rotary To Hear Bomb Test Talks

"The Atomic Bomb Experiment At Bikini Island," will be the subject of talks by two experts at Monday evening's meeting of the local Rotary club in the YWCA at six o'clock.

Larry Kennison, of the War Mapping project here will discuss the geography of Bikini Island and Prof. George Miller of Gettysburg college will outline the results and significance of the atomic bomb experiment, according to an announcement made today to all members.

LIBRARY'S 13 BOOK STATIONS ARE MUCH USED

Circulation of books in the 13 library deposit stations so far established in the county was 578 during June, Miss Kathryn Oller, county librarian, announced today.

Of the books, 205 of those taken out by readers were adult fiction, 195 were juvenile fiction, 20 adult non-fiction and 158 juvenile non-fiction.

The number of books circulated by the library deposit stations was considerably larger than the total given. Miss Oller said, because no records were received from York Springs and East Berlin stations because the custodians were not available at the time of Miss Oller's visits to those sections. The Fairfield station was not included in the report because the station there was opened during the month.

Will Establish More Stations

Besides the stations, 215 books were circulated at the New Oxford branch and additional hundreds were read by persons who obtained their books at the library here.

Miss Oller pointed out that a deposit of books will be placed anywhere in the county provided the particular community will furnish a place for the books and a custodian.

The place for the books can be in a private home, store, post office or similar place, Miss Oller said, and provision does not have to be made for a separate reading room. She added that very little work is involved for the custodian of the book deposit stations.

Stations and custodians so far in the county include:

Shriver's corner, Mrs. Louis P. Kooker; near Bermudian cottages, Mrs. Maud Kennedy; York Springs, Mademoiselle club; New Chester, Mrs. Snyder; Abbottstown, Mrs. Elsie Elsenhart; Spangler's Meat Market; East Berlin, Mrs. Elmer M. Gruver; New Oxford, Mrs. George Sheffer and Fred Gable; Woodlawn, Kenneth Trayer; Orrtanna, Miss Alice Tressler; Fairfield, Miss Hazel Cuson; Idaville, Mrs. A. R. Delp, and Arendtsville, E. D. Bushman.

WILL DISCUSS WAR MEMORIAL

The erection of a community center building as a memorial to men and women from the East Berlin school district who served in World Wars I and II will be discussed at a mass meeting for residents of East Berlin and Abbottstown boroughs and Berwick, Hamilton, Jackson, Latimore, Reading, Paradise and Washington townships in the East Berlin High school auditorium next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Tuesday's meeting has been arranged by the East Berlin Lions club, which has sponsored the undertaking. The Lions met last week with forty veterans of the area to obtain their reaction to the suggested memorial. The plan was placed in the hands of a committee of club members after an East Berlin veteran suggested the erection of a "useful" memorial rather than an ornamental marker as a "permanent honor roll" to replace the temporary marker which stood through the war years on the grounds of Trinity Lutheran church, East Berlin.

The "living memorial" is proposed to be erected on the East Berlin high school campus and would be a building of cinder block encased with brick. The large basement, to be almost entirely above the ground level, would contain as its chief feature a recreation hall 90 feet by 56 feet by 15 feet, to be assigned to the use of all groups from East Berlin and its surrounding territory.

Blue And Gray Band Plays At Waynesboro

Contributions to the Blue and Gray band have reached $3,581.53, according to reports presented Thursday evening following a concert held by the organization at Waynesboro.

Additional contributors were named as the Natural Springs Park, Harvey Felix, Forest Park, Hanover, and Mrs. Ida B. Timmins. The amount was the third given by Mr. Felix during the fund-raising campaign.

The local musicians are scheduled to play Saturday evening at the Aspers Fire company carnival and bazaar at Aspers, William I. Shields, chairman of the board of managers, announced. Those members who do not have transportation to Aspers were asked to meet at the fire engine house on East Middle street at 7 o'clock Saturday evening.

Fifty-two members of the band took part in Thursday's concert at a carnival in Waynesboro. The carnival is being sponsored by Waynesboro firemen and the Wayne band.

All Veterans To Be Welcome

The Welcome Home celebration being arranged by a county-wide committee for August 14 — the first anniversary of V-J Day — is for all World War II veterans in Adams county, it was emphasized today.

The Home Coming events are being planned in honor of all men and women in the county who served in the armed forces. It is not necessary that they entered service through local draft boards. Veterans who came to the county after entering the service or since the war are equally entitled to share in the honors on August 14, members of the planning committee said.

Ex-servicemen now enrolled at Gettysburg college are included.

The badge of a guest of honor on V-J Day here will be the regulation service discharge button.

CHERRY TREES NEED SPRAYING AFTER HARVEST

An "after harvest" spray letter for sour cherry growers was sent out from the office of County Agent M. T. Hartman today, with the advice to growers to spray their trees as soon as the cherry crop is harvested, to control cherry leaf spot and brown rot.

"This spray is necessary to protect the leaves from late leaf spot infection and defoliation," the letter warned. "Cherry trees should hold their leaves until frost to be productive and winter-hardy," it continued. "Where leaf spot has caused yellow leaves and some defoliation in orchards this year, a second Bordeaux may be applied before fall rains, about the middle of August."

"Bordeaux will also reduce the carry-over of the brown rot fungus, Botrytis, and other disease-causing organisms."

Helps Hold Leaves

A Bordeaux 2-6-100 spray is recommended, two pounds of blue-stone, six pounds spray grade hydrated lime in 100 gallons of water. The letter says a fine spray should be used, thoroughly covering the leaves in all parts of the tree. Bordeaux should be applied only to dry foliage, otherwise copper injury may result, and the spray should not be applied when there is dew or rain on the leaves.

To prevent leaf spotting and defoliation in young orchards of non-bearing trees, two pounds of copper sulphate and six pounds of hydrated spray lime should be used, the letter says.

Raspberry growers were warned today that in most black raspberry patches anthracnose is present on this year's growth. The amount of rainfall and poor drying conditions have been favorable for infection by the fungus. Spots may be found on the new canes and on the side branches; some direct damage to the fruit was caused. Observations have indicated that the delayed dormant spray significantly reduced the disease.

Berry Growers Advised

June Bond Sales $93,496 In County

Sales of U. S. Saving Bonds in Adams county totalled $93,496 during June, according to a report by Charles J. Mell, state director of the U. S. Saving Bond division for Pennsylvania.

Sales of E and G Savings bonds increased throughout Pennsylvania during June over the May figures, Mell stated. E Bond redemptions were also considerably less than in May. The savings bonds are the peacetime issue of government bonds similar to the war bonds of the war years.

Adams countians purchased $45,412 worth of E Bonds, $3,584 n F Bonds and $38,500 in G Bonds during last month. The state totals were: E Bonds, $28,390,544; F Bonds, $1,595,291 and G Bonds, $35,725,900 or a total for the state of $55,711,735.

PREPARING TO RETURN BODIES OF WAR DEAD

Adams county next of kin of World War II soldiers killed overseas are being notified by the War Department that they may apply for return of the bodies to their home towns.

During the next several months, kin of dead war heroes will receive application blanks requesting relatives to state whether they wish the bodies to be returned or permitted to rest in military cemeteries overseas.

An accompanying letter will inform the next of kin of the location of the overseas grave in which the body is now resting.

Roy A. Alexander, director of Veterans' Affairs for Adams county, said today that no remains have yet been returned to the county. Only a few have arrived in the United States, and those were of soldiers who died or were killed within the past few months.

Issue Warning

The returning of bodies will not get underway until the latter part of the year, according to information received from the War Department.

In the meantime, the Veterans' Administration warned citizens to be on guard against organizations or individuals offering them "special assistance" or information. The War Department has received numerous complaints of activities of such organizations.

The only official agency responsible for the return and burial of World War II dead is the Quartermaster General's Office in Washington. Its facilities are available to relatives of all overseas deceased, it was announced.

It is not necessary to employ or engage private organizations to get full information. A letter to the Quartermaster General will get all details without any cost whatsoever.

To Decide Priorities

If any Adams county next of kin fails to receive an application blank for re-burial within the next three months, Alexander advised that the relative write the Quartermaster General Office. Because the address given by the soldier before his death has changed in many instances, these letters may easily be misdirected he said.

The War Department will strive to return the remains upon request of the next of kin through these application blanks. Where the soldier has been listed as "missing," it will be impossible to return the body, the War Department stated.

The bodies will be brought to the home town of the relative. Reburial expenses will be borne by the individual, Alexander stated.

Priority arrangements for the return of remains will be worked out by the War Department, Alexander said.

TO DISMEMBER GERMANY WOULD NOT AID PEACE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's advocacy of a unified and self-supporting Germany provides a rather startling thought for a world which has come to regard the Reich as condemned to impotence, but the idea is one which would have to be threshed out sooner or later in any event.

Some quarters in Paris, where the Big Four Foreign Ministers are meeting, have been inclined to regard Molotov's speech as a bid for Russian popularity in the Reich and as calculated to strengthen the hand of the German Communists. Well, one certainly could arrive at that thought by trying to look beneath the surface. However, it's worth examining the proposal from the standpoint of face value. The subject is doubly important in view of Secretary of State Byrnes' call yesterday for the establishment of a central administration in Germany, taking the place of the present "air tight compartments" of the four occupation zones.

In theory, at least, the main purposes of any peace settlement for Germany must be threefold: (1) To make absolutely certain that never again will she be able to wage a war of aggression; (2) To reeducate her in the ideals of peace and real democracy; (3) To rehabilitate her so that she may take her proper place in the politico-economic life of Europe.

Must Be Repaired

Total dismemberment of the Reich, with the consequent destruction of all industrial and other economic relationship, would hardly seem to fit into that picture. Of course there is a school which would destroy Germany, and it's easy to understand that feeling, for she has sinned as few nations ever have sinned. Moreover, she must be punished in a manner befitting her crimes.

Still, even if the Allies look at the matter solely from the viewpoint of self-interest they can't escape the fact that the old Germany was the keystone of the continental European arch—faulty, but still the keystone. It is given to doubt whether that key-stone can be destroyed without doing terrific damage to Europe. It must be repaired and restored within the limits prescribed by the peace terms.

Total dismemberment of Germany would in the main defeat the objects sought, because the various parts of the Reich have been interdependent. But there is nothing in this circumstance which would preclude the creation of a federation of German states, and it wouldn't prevent the allies from carrying out their determination to eliminate all industries which might be used to create shrews of war.

Obviously this wouldn't fit in with the French thesis that the Ruhr, Rhineland and Saar be separated from Germany, but that is a problem which still has to be solved.

MINISTERS NOT AGREED; DROP GERMAN TOPICS

Paris, July 12 (AP)—The foreign ministers completed their discussion of German problems today without a major agreement and began a study of Austrian questions, a French source said. Their session lasted two hours and a half.

A French source said the ministers did agree to name a special committee to study the problem of how much German coal production to leave to the Germans and how much to allot to the Allies.

The committee will report to the Berlin control council, which will pass on the report to the ministers by September 1.

French President Georges Bidault told the meeting, associates said, that France would consent to "the provisional treatment of Germany, in her actual frontiers, as an economic unit," on the condition that administrative machinery set up to accomplish this be headed by Allied personnel and not German.

Postponed Until November

A new American plan designed to restore economic order in Germany was presented to the ministers last night.

The American proposal, presented yesterday by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, called for the establishment of a central administration in Germany, superseding what Byrnes described as the present "air tight compartments" of the four occupation zones.

Byrnes said that if the American proposal were turned down, his government was willing as a last resort to make an economic merger of its occupation zone with that of any member or members of the Big Four.

Yesterday's meeting ended without discussion of the Byrnes plan, but the ministers are scheduled to consider it today, and may also tackle the Austrian question.

Meanwhile, the ministers formally scheduled another meeting—probably in November—to continue the study of Germany.

BIG TRANSPORTS ARE GROUNDED

Washington, July 12 (AP)—United States Airlines withdrew their Lockheed Constellation airplanes from service today while technicians of the Civil Aeronautics Administration and Lockheed Aircraft company investigated the fatal crash of one of the huge craft at Reading, Pa.

The British Overseas Airways corporation, which put five of this type into the New York-London service on July 1, said in London it would await official information before deciding whether to discontinue their use until the inquiry was completed.

One of the BOAC's Constellations, with 27 aboard, was due at Gander, Newfoundland, from London today.

An order by the Civil Aeronautics Administration directed that the giant planes be grounded for 30 days, effective last midnight.

The American Overseas Airlines and Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., planned to continue their trans-Atlantic schedules with 34-passenger Douglas Skymasters.

Pan-American World Airways said it also would substitute other trans-ocean Clippers for its four-engine Constellations, which can carry 40 to 56 passengers and are the largest land planes in commercial service.

HELD FOR THEFT

Charles Weaver, 24, Hanover, was held Thursday night by York Alderman J. Ralph Grove for grand jury action on a charge of larceny of an auto belonging to Raymond Daugherty, York, last July.

Weaver was returned to the county jail, where he was being held on another larceny charge and the alderman fixed bail at $500.

The prosecutor testified Weaver took his Buick auto from a taproom at Day's Mill, near Codorus, while he, Daugherty, was involved in a fight with a group of patrons at the taproom, and abandoned it between Hanover and Cross Keys.

or not dusted the potato late blight wrought havoc and it has now spread into the tomatoes. County Extension Agent M. T. Hartman, who warned several days ago of the blight among the tomatoes, said today that possibly the only solution if the situation becomes more serious will be to advise tomato growers to buy their potatoes from someone else, rather than raise them on their farms.

Dusting Helped

Those who were able to do a thorough job of dusting and spraying on their potatoes checked the blight, but some were unable to spray or dust and as a result the blight has assumed the largest proportions in years.

Agricultural experts pointed out that the state has laws enforcing the cutting of weeds, particularly such weeds as Canada thistle and chicory, or coffee plant.

Under the law constables and supervisors of townships have the right to notify those whose fields are filled with the weeds to cut them within five days. If they are not cut within that time the constable or supervisor has the right to enter the field, cut the weeds and collect for his labor from the farmer or householder. The supervisors also have the duty to keep the rights of way along roads clean of the weeds.

The cherry crop now being harvested was not expected to be up to normal and corn was still a question, with much late corn planted this year. Beans may become a bumper crop, with many farmers putting in beans in their pea fields after harvest.

Chicken production had slumped earlier this summer and it was expected that by this fall the production of chickens and eggs in the county may reach a lower figure than in years.

ter to berry growers says, "Removal and burning of the old canes will reduce the amount of anthracnose in the planting. These canes are of little value after harvest. In addition to harboring anthracnose and other fungi, they prevent rapid drying of the new growth. Anthracnose will spread on the new growth during rains and when moisture is present."

"After old canes have been removed, spray with lime sulphur, two gallons in 100 gallons of water. Apply under good drying conditions, and direct the spray to the canes. This spray on new plantings will prevent anthracnose from becoming established. Next spring, when pruning, all weak and heavily diseased canes should be removed."

BULLETIN

The Jewish agency Executive, was released today from Latrun detention camp and returned to Jerusalem.

Washington, July 12 (AP)—A report that Oak Ridge security officers think "the peace and security of the United States is definitely in danger" threw a roadblock against the administration's atomic control legislation today.

House Republicans showed a disposition to sidetrack all A-bills until world conditions become more settled.

Hamilton, Ont., July 12 (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers today called a general strike in Canadian steel plants to start next Monday or earlier.

Washington, July 12 (AP)—With the House rushing toward a vote tomorrow on the $3,750,000,000 British loan, Rep. Landis (R-Ind.) said today the credit "is more likely to promote war than preserve peace."

The Indiana member told newsmen before he went on the floor "we have the loan licked." Administration leaders, however, were confident of victory.

Nuernberg, July 12 (AP)—Julius Streicher, Jew-baiting editor, was described to the International Military tribunal today as a man politically dead in the Reich after 1940 and thus unable to influence Germans to acts of violence, as the prosecution contends.

A pair of close games and two forfeits marked the play in the Community Softball league Thursday evening.

The Moose came through with a pair of runs in the last half of the seventh inning to score a 6-5 victory over the Marketeers on the high school field.

In the top half of the fourth Olsen put the Marketeers ahead 4-0 with a homerun with two on. The Moose tied the count in their half with four runs on a walk, a hit and four errors. After the Marketeers pushed over a run in the top half of the seventh the Moose staged their two-run rally to win. With one out Baltzley singled, Moser hit a semi-line between shortstop and centerfield on which Herr and Trussel crashed together, Baltzley scoring and Moser reaching second. After Tate popped out Stoner scored Moser with the winning run on a drive to third base which was not fielded.

The Acme ran its winning streak to 11 and increased its first-place lead to three full games by nipping the VFW 3-1 on the college field. The Vets were handicapped in the early innings due to having but eight players on the field.

The Highway gained a forfeit when the Legion failed to show up for a game listed for the college field while the W. E. Aires also gained a forfeit when the State Guard could muster but four players for the contest listed for the high school field.

Sailor Freed In 'Defense' Slaying

Uniontown, Pa., July 12 (AP)—A 25-year-old sailor who crushed another man's skull fatally in a defense of a 16-year-old neighbor girl was freed without bond today and may never face charges.

He is Clarence Edward Yaeger, who told officers he acted in self-defense when he struck Everett Stackpole, 45, formerly of Clarksburg, W. Va., with a two by four piece of lumber after his efforts to dissuade the older man failed.

District Attorney Fred L. Brothers said he could see "no malice or premeditation" in Yaeger's act and that "stories of other witnesses bear

TOP NINES IN IMPORTANT CO. LEAGUE GAMES

The four top teams in the Adams County Baseball league will be pitted against each other in important games Saturday afternoon.

Fairfield, half game in front of Arendtsville for the top honors, journeys to McSherrystown to meet the fast-stepping third-place McSherrystown nine.

Emmitsburg, now holding fourth place, meets the second-place Arendtsville tribe at Arendtsville.

Ortanna, fighting to gain a place in the playoffs, will host to Bendersville, fifth-place occupants.

Littlestown, now tied with Ortanna for sixth place, will play at Bonneville, cellar occupants.

Sunday's schedule in the Pennsylvania league follows:

Littlestown at Blue Ridge Summit, Harney at Emmitsburg, Taneytown at McSherrystown, Hanover at Thurmont, and Middleburg at Wakefield.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, July 12 (AP)—The means about the $100 price for the recent Joe Louis-Billy Conn waltz apparently didn't disturb your Uncle Mike Jacobs one bit. . . . The $30 top he set yesterday for Louis vs. Tami Mauriello is just as big an over-charge, considering the records and what you can expect. . . . Tami is the best opponent available for Louis if there has to be a September fight. He can hit fairly hard (51 knockouts in 77 fights) and never has been flattened, but he never had to take the kind of punches that Joe dishes out. . . . Mauriello runs a tavern in the Bronx (and his weight trouble comes from eating there, too). . . . Louis is about to open a restaurant in Harlem. . . . Why not have them meet in neutral territory—say the back room of Tony Galento's New Jersey filling station?

GOING MY WAY?
Alex Shultz of the Seattle Times tells about the time the star center fielder of the Walla Walla penitentiary team turned up missing after being allowed outside the walls with a work party. . . . An alarm went out and the next day he was hauled off a truck headed for Portland. . . . "So you grabbed me," the guy snorted. "I was trying to get to Mexico and play in the Mexican league."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
After observing the pro tennis championships at Forest Hills, Davis Cup Captain Walter Pate, who guided the stars in their amateur days, says they've slipped back because of lack of tournament play. . . . Although the southern conference is allowing its schools to open football practice two weeks early this year, Jimmy Kitts is taking only one week of the extra-time. He must know what he has at Virginia Tech. . . . Gibson White, 31, likely will be the youngest driver in the Hamilton next month. His pop, 73-year-old Ben, probably will pilot "Will Reynolds" Don Scott against Gil's favorite, Deanna. . . . Although Manager Jimmie Hitchcock's Opelika Owls are at the bottom of the Georgia-Alabama league, Jimmie did okay in the recent election when he won an Alabama public service commission place by a large majority. . . . Maybe the fans didn't vote.

Inter State League
(By The Associated Press)
Wilmington's Blue Rocks tightened their hold on first place in the interstate league, and increased their lead to three full games with a double win over Allentown last night, 7 to 2 and 4 to 3.

Second-place Sunbury stayed within sight of the leaders by out-slugging Trenton, 18 to 10.

York, dragged to emerge from the cellar, battling seventh-place Lancaster a game closer to the dungeon edging the Red Roses, 3 to 2.

Hagerstown was a game away from Allentown and Trenton, now tied for fourth, after walloping Harrisburg, 6 to 2.

COUNTY BALL LEAGUE RULES OUT PROTESTS

Two protested games in the Adams County Baseball league were thrown out at a meeting of the league officials Thursday evening at the fire engine house. Roy Shenebrook, Bon-neauville, vice president, presided. A protest lodged by Bendersville in a game played with Arendtsville was tossed out when Bendersville failed to have a representative present at the meeting.

The protest played by Bonneville in a game played with Ortanna was likewise ruled out when reports revealed it was improperly handled. It was pointed out that with the exception of a few by-laws, official American League rules are to be followed in league play. It was ordered that in the future all umpires must carry official rule books with them at all times and handle protests according to league rules.

Propose All-Star Tilt
A proposal was made by Arendtsville officials for the staging of an All-Star contest. Francis Mummert, league secretary, and Mr. Shenebrook were named to a committee to learn of the availability of the Gettysburg college diamond on Labor Day for such a contest. If held, one team would be composed of players from Bendersville, Fairfield, Ortanna and Arendtsville, and the other with stars from Littlestown, McSherrystown, Bonneville and Emmitsburg.

It was learned through a check of the records that McSherrystown's standing should be 10 wins and five losses while that of Bendersville should be five wins and 10 losses.

The next meeting of the league, the date of which has not been set will be held at the fire engine house at Bonneville.

At the meeting Thursday evening Bendersville and Emmitsburg were not represented.

Working in and out of turn doesn't prolong the career of a pitcher even if that hurler is Bobby Feller, star righthander of the Cleveland Indians and one of the best to toe the rubber in baseball history.

However, the law of average and nature caught up with the fireball king before 56,243 fans in New York's Yankee stadium last night.

Granted permission to make his third start in five days and with only one day of rest, Feller was blasted for nine runs and 11 hits in five innings as the Yanks whipped the Indians 9-1.

By winning, New York managed to stay within seven-and-one-half games of the pace-setting Boston Red Sox who nosed out the Detroit Tigers, 3-2 in ten innings.

The Chicago Cubs, behind the three-hit tossing of Johnny Schmitz blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers, 1-0, but the Dodgers maintained their five game National league lead over the St. Louis Cardinals as the New York Giants trounced the Red Birds, 13-3.

The triumph moved the Giants into a fifth place tie with the Boston Braves who dropped 8-2 contest to Bucky Walters and the Cincinnati Reds.

The Philadelphia Phillies downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-1 as their veteran righthander Schoolboy Rowe dished out three safeties.

Frankie Gustine's seventh inning circuit drive spoiled Rowe's bid for a shutout.

St. Louis' Browns collected only two hits off Phil Marchildon but the Browns bunched them along with three walks to tally four runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-3.

The Chicago White Sox beat the Washington Senators, 4-2, in eleven innings with Don Kolloway doubling in Bob Kennedy and Whitney Platt with the winning runs.

Promises Action On Mental Hospitals

Greensburg, Pa., July 12 (AP)—Col. John S. Rice, Democratic candidate for governor, said here last night that under Governor Martin's administration Pennsylvania mental hospitals "have degenerated into horror camps of hopelessness and sorrow."

Rice said if he is elected governor he will "tear the whole inside out of this problem."

"Even a Republican legislature gave the Welfare department $3,000,000 to improve the mental hospital," said Rice. "What have they done with it? They've sat on it. It's part of that surplus they boast about."

Only eight of Pennsylvania's 17 mental hospitals are approved by the American College of Surgeons, Rice said, adding that the state Board of Nursing has recognized the training program at only one of six institutions which had it.

Rice promised to build modern hospitals "with the concept of treatment, not imprisonment" if he is elected.

Five Former Champs Lose Out On Links

Philadelphia, July 12 (AP)—Match play in the 33rd Pennsylvania amateur golf championship resumed today on the Philadelphia country club's spring mill course with but 16 linksmen in a starting field of 56 still set for action.

Five former champions, including tourney favorite Harry Haverstick, Jr., of Lancaster, were eliminated yesterday in play marked by frequent upsets.

Marion (Midge) Kupsick, 28-year-old war veteran from Springfield, Pa., scored a 9 and 7 triumph over Haverstick in the second round. It was the worst beating administered to Haverstick since he won the state title in 1938.

Other former champions who were eliminated included Max Maarston, Philadelphia, titleholder in 1921, 1922 and 1923; Will Gunn, Springhaven, 1933; W. J. (Zimmee) Platt, Philadelphia, 1925, and H. Lloyd Boyer, Jr., Philadelphia, 1931 and 1934.

POTTER NAMED COORDINATOR

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—Establishment of GI College Centers throughout Pennsylvania next fall took on added impetus today with the appointment of five area coordinators.

Under the program approved by Pennsylvania Colleges, the coordinators will call on local educational authorities and veterans organizations for aid in ascertaining the number of veterans and recent high school graduates who are unable to enter existing schools.

These individuals would be asked to apply by letter to the nearest area coordinator and then would be assigned, if possible, to schools closest to their home under certain restrictions.

The plan was approved by the College heads after Governor Martin discarded a previous proposal to set up an emergency College at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, Superintendent of Public Instruction, announced the appointments of the coordinators including:

J. W. Potter, former Carlisle superintendent of schools, for area No. 2, Dauphin, Lebanon, Lancaster, Cumberland, Adams, York and Perry counties.

Martin said the clerks "can hunt another job" if they strike against the government. When asked how the stores would be staffed if they were fired, he asserted:

"We put in a few years without any stores," referring to the period before the State monopoly was set up at the end of national prohibition.

Anthony Biddle Is Wed Thursday
Frankfurt, Germany, July 12 (AP)—Col. Anthony Drexel Biddle, Jr., former U. S. ambassador to Poland, and Mrs. Margaret Atkinson Longborough were married at noon Thursday in a military ceremony at the army's Protestant chapel at Frankfurt.

Biddle, 48, of Philadelphia, and his 31-year-old bride, whose home was in Moncton, New Brunswick, will spend their honeymoon in Frankfurt.

The marriage of the chief of the army's Allied contact section in Europe was performed by Col. John J. Rhea, of Louisville, Ky., acting European theater chaplain.

Crops Flourish In Most Parts Of Pa.

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—Except in southeastern Pennsylvania where rain is needed, crops throughout the state are flourishing, the state agriculture department reported in a survey today.

Excellent yields of what are being harvested and some early potatoes are being dug, the survey showed, but pastures, though furnishing much feed, are getting short.

Sprayed apples look good although the set of many late varieties is thin. Transparents and Wealthys are good crops. Peaches have sized well but continue to drop. The light Adams county cherry crop is going to canneries. Grapes appear to be setting heavy, the report added.

No Plans To Abolish State Liquor Stores

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—Abolition of the State Liquor stores in favor of the pre-prohibition system of licensing individual saloons seems unlikely, says Governor Martin.

"I haven't heard anything about it recently," he told newsmen at a conference Wednesday. The subject came up when Martin was asked about a strike threat of liquor store clerks in Western Pennsylvania.

The clerks, members of the CIO-United Public Workers of America, have voted to walk out Oct. 2 unless their wage demands are met.

Martin said the clerks "can hunt another job" if they strike against the government. When asked how the stores would be staffed if they were fired, he asserted:

"We put in a few years without any stores," referring to the period before the State monopoly was set up at the end of national prohibition.

CHETNIK LEADER "HATED" NAZIS

Belgrade, July 12 (AP)—The trial of Gen. Draja Mihailovic moved swiftly toward its climax Thurs. following the former Yugoslav war minister's final plea for his life, in which he voiced "an absolute hatred for the Germans" and denied charges that he had collaborated with them.

In a four-hour address yesterday to the war crimes tribunal before which he and 23 co-defendants are on trial, Mihailovic reviewed his career as leader of the Chetniks and asked the court "to be fair in its evaluation of my work."

"I do not say that I made no mistakes, but everyone was making mistakes," Mihailovic declared as he pictured for the tribunal the "whirlpool of events and difficulties" with which he was confronted.

The Chetnik chieftain, hailed by the Allied world as the leader of Yugoslav resistance forces in 1941, referred frequently to his notes as he sought to refute the testimony of prosecution witnesses that his men had fought side by side with the Germans against Marshal Tito's partisans.

He declared that he had "never made an agreement with any enemy," that he had always maintained a hostile attitude toward the Germans and had fought constantly for

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Army Tactical Problem on Field: Working on the same tactical problem brought other officers of the 28th division, Pennsylvania National Guard, to Gettysburg several weeks ago. Brigadier General Edward Martin, state treasurer and commander of the 55th infantry brigade, 28th division and his staff spent Friday night and Saturday morning in Gettysburg.

Wilbur Oyer First Victim of Drowning: Wilbur Richard Oyer, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Oyer, Fourth street, drowned in Marsh creek at Marsh Creek Heights Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, after disregarding a warning against swimming across the stream.

Although the boy's body was brought to the surface about five minutes after he disappeared and artificial respiration was resorted to in an effort to restore breathing, life was extinct when Dr. Roy W. Gifford, who was summoned arrived about 20 minutes after the mishap.

44-Hour Week at Post Office: Beginning Saturday, July 11, the 44-hour working week will be instituted at the Gettysburg post office. The reduction in the working time of postal employees from 48 to 44 hours a week resulted from a bill passed by the last Congress and signed by President Hoover.

Hereafter there will be only one city delivery of mail on Saturday instead of two as in the past.

Bullet Heads Rotary Club: Eugene V. Bullet, attorney-at-law, was installed as president of the Gettysburg Rotary club at the weekly meeting at the Y.W.C.A. Monday evening. He succeeds Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer.

Other officers installed include Fred Griest, vice president; C. W. Cook, secretary; Dr. C. N. Gitt, treasurer; N. B. Schnurman, sergeant-at-arms, and M. C. Jones, Edmund W. Thomas and C. Ray Rupp, directors.

Butler Challenges Government to Lead Way to Prosperity: A challenge to the government to lead the way out of depression was delivered by Major-General Smedley D. Butler, commander of the Marine Corps at Quantico, Virginia, in an address at the Pennsylvania monument on the battlefield Saturday afternoon (July 4).

The exercises were opened with a selection by the Carlisle band, after which Dr. Charles F. Sanders, of Gettysburg college, gave the invocation.

Dr. John Aberly, president of the local theological seminary, introduced General Butler.

G.A.R. veterans were guests of the Chamber of Commerce in the procession and on the rostrum.

General Butler's appearance here was the high spot of the four-day celebration of the 68th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg arranged by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

A creditable fireworks display on Oak Ridge Saturday evening brought to a close the celebration.

K. of C. Names New Officers: Officers of the Gettysburg council Knights of Columbus elected for the council year of 1931-32 from July 1 are: Grand Knight, George F. Hemler; deputy grand knight, William A. Alwine; chancellor, Bernard P. Maguire; warden, Charles P. Dillman; advocate, Martin A. Slade; recorder, Norbert L. Oyer; treasurer, Edmund W. Thomas; trustee for three years, Francis E. Smith; inside guard, J. Donald Dillman; outside guard, Wilbur V. Redding and Martin Redding. The Rev. Father Mark E. Stock was appointed chaplain and Francis C. Redding, financial secretary. Rev. Father O. Hanrahan is the lecturer.

LEISURE FOR MATURING

In one of Paul Valery's very stimulating essays he says: "There were never so many toys! But how many anxieties there are too! Never were there so many fears." This was said nearly ten years ago by the noted French writer. And then later on in his essay he says: "We have lost the leisure for maturing."

After the last World War we left off growing, at least spiritually. We went back to our toys—and invented more of them. And from the play toys we graduated into playing with toys of death. And this has changed all our perspective. It is not power that the people want for themselves, that is, power over others, but power to reconstruct their lives to a simple, happy state. And what are they faced with? A world of fears!

Few have learned the leisure for maturing. The mature mind is a thinking mind. In its perfect civil state it is intelligent. It believes in justice to all, and its judgment is for peace among all, whether in the small community, or the world at large. But it neglects to force its mind upon those, in high estate who are its chosen representatives. There is where democracy fails.

Immature minds seek to rule this world, and force its will upon the unwilling and the unthinking. We want what we are unwilling to pay for. But, if someone else wants it more than we, we have to pay anyway, and with that we are and have. Is it not time, therefore, that we put our house and mind in order and determine upon a way of peace, rather than wait upon the day of judgment to lose all—even our souls?

Why not take our leisure for maturing spiritually, rather than politically and financially? It will never be old fashioned to love all beauty, to listen to the call of a bird and feel that we are lending our ear to the echo of God's voice. We can even take time out to be kind! And to lend a hand. But let us not barter this precious hour of maturing leisure for a mess of pottage!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Significant Things."

$1,800 NETTED BY LEGION IN JULY 4 EVENTS

The committee in charge of the carnival July 4, 5, and 6 reported a net profit of $1,800, at a meeting of John W. Ocker post No. 321, American Legion, Littlestown, Thursday evening. Wilbur E. Mackley was general chairman of the three-day event. Commander C. J. Krichten expressed his appreciation to all those who helped in making the affair a success. The post voted $25 to the Playground committee. Plans were discussed for giving the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary an outing in appreciation for their services at the carnival.

Mark Frazer and Luther Hankey were appointed delegates to go to Harrisburg this week-end to investigate the work of a committee to meet with the governor in regard to housing, jobs, education, and a bonus. If the committee is found to consist of bona-fide representatives of veterans, the local delegates will join in the meeting with the governor.

Francis J. Will gave a financial report for June. Two 40mm. guns were reported as having been purchased from the government, to be mounted on the front lawn. New pavements are being laid around the post home, and the lawn is being beautified.

Girl Scouts Enjoy Outing Along Creek

Members of Girl Scout Troop No. 1, accompanied by their leader, Miss Mary Rita Redding, enjoyed swimming Thursday afternoon at Miller's bottom. They also enjoyed a box lunch which they had carried along, and a marshmallow roast. Part of the afternoon was devoted to nature study, with flowers and trees the topics.

Dorothy Shanefelter and Nancy Simpson passed their sports-and-games test, one of ten required for advancement from tenderfoot to second class. The program ended with the Girl Scout friendship circle.

Next week the girls will sleep overnight on the B. F. Redding lawn, in preparation for an all-day hike to Miller's bottom the following week.

Arnold, and Mark Frazer were appointed delegates to the Legion caucus at Waynesboro on Wednesday, July 31, at 8 p. m. A membership of 204 entitles the local post to three delegates.

Robert K. Miller, Jr., and William M. Ebaugh were elected as members. John S. Fogle, Lloyd C. Wintrobe, Fred D. Blair, and David F. Bowers were nominated for membership.

The members voted to meet during the summer on the second and last days of each month. The canteen will be open Thursday evening and Sundays.

Rent The Money To Buy A Home

If you are now paying rent, why not rent the money instead to buy your own home? Get a modern long-term Mortgage Loan here. Pay for the use of the money at a very low rate of interest.

Payments may be made each month like rent—except that each is less than the one before—and a step toward home ownership. The low rate and long liberal terms remain the same, regardless of any future upward trend in rents or other living costs.

Home ownership is the road to real security. Why pay for a home and yet never own one? Plan to buy or build. Find how easy it is to arrange the financing. Talk with our officers.

VET RECALLS TOUGH SPOT ON MOSELLE RIVER

Bloom, a wounded World War II veteran today began "digging out from under" a civilian catastrophe, the recent fire at his store which he established since his return from service. He began with a fire sale by which he hopes to get rid of his water and fire damaged stock preparatory to starting out again. A recent electrical storm started the fire in the rear of his establishment.

John R. Bloom, G.I. manager of Bloom's Apparel Shop, 50 South Queen street, Littlestown, recalls one night in October, 1944, he'll never forget.

Bloom told a Times reporter this week that he and a companion were stationed at an outpost on the banks of the Moselle River. The outpost which they were guarding was the best possible place in that area for unloading supplies. The two Americans were on guard alone, but he did know that there were five other Americans in the near vicinity.

The stillness of the night was broken by the sound of paddles in the water. The warning moon made just enough light for Bloom and his companion to recognize two rowboats crossing the Moselle River. The boats contained 16 German soldiers, who constituted a reconnaissance patrol. The two guards did not know where the other five Americans were, and so were in a quandary as to what to do. 16 against 2 would not be any fun; if the other five would not come to their aid, it would indeed be an uneven battle. If they should open fire with their BAR's (the G.I. term for Brown Automatic Rifles) there might also be the danger of hitting their mates. The two decided to wait.

Kill 14 Nazis

The 16 Nazis unloaded from the two boats, and started up the beach. They were all fully armed. Bloom admits that he was really scared that night. The Nazis walked directly toward them. The two had their rifles ready. The Germans were now very close. The two waited until the 16 Germans were almost upon them, and then cut loose. The hostile group had hardly recovered from the surprise of the volley fired at them, when, to the great relief of Bloom and his companion, the other five Americans also opened fire on the Germans. Fourteen of the sixteen Nazis fell dead. The other two were captured.

Expressing a personal opinion of the Germans, Bloom said that they were not like the Americans; that if the German leader is killed, they surrender. All except the SS men. He stated that they never gave up, but continued fighting.

Wears Purple Heart

Bloom was born on Nov. 26, 1911, and has lived in Littlestown and vicinity all his life. He and his wife, Madalyn, formerly Miss Humbert, Middleburg, Md., reside in the Matthis apartments. He is the owner of the John Bloom Apparel Shop. He entered this business on December 22, 1945.

Bloom entered the Army on December 22, 1943, at New Oxford. He entered France on D-Day Plus 10 and subsequently served in four campaigns: Normandy, France, Luxembourg, and Germany. He still receives treatments for head and body injuries sustained on December 4, 1944, while in the 330th Battalion of the 83rd Infantry Division. His injuries were the result of artillery shells, and were incurred when his outfit was moving up into a spearhead in Hurtgen Forest. They were caught just outside of the Siegfried Line, and took two days of artillery pounding.

Following his injuries, he was temporarily blinded for about 20 days. He was in a Belgian hospital a little over a week; in a Paris hospi-

PLAYGROUND IS IN FULL SWING AT LITTLESTOWN

Mid-July finds the playground and recreational program in Littlestown in full swing and with between 75 and 100 children taking part in the activities at the playground each week-day. The program is under the direction of Clayton Evans, former army air forces captain.

Announcement of the formation of a softball league which will begin play next Tuesday, was made by Mr. Evans today. The following teams are entered: Lions club, Rotary club, William Crouse garage, Littlestown newsstand, post office, and Banker's restaurant.

Each team will play each other team once. The standings will be kept and the first and second teams will play the third and fourth place entrants, and the fifth and sixth place teams will meet at the end of the regular schedule. Winners of these games will meet in the semi-finals and final for the championship.

Special Projects

Each team will play once a week, and games will be played Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The children are using the regular playground equipment and playing ball every day back of the Littlestown high school. In addition, several projects have been provided for their interest by Mr. Evans.

The boys have been making tie racks to be affixed to closet doors or walls and the girls "jitterbug" ornaments for their coats and dresses, and little "Scottie dogs" cut out of wood, painted and equipped with pins for fastening to their coats.

The tie racks are cut from a pattern, and the boys sandpaper them and paint them. A small hinge is added to attach the racks to the doors or walls.

Swimming and Tennis

Mr. Evans is also cutting out wooden toys, such as tractors and trailers, for the youngsters to complete, and is making checker sets and cut out puzzles.

Swimming classes are being taught by Mr. Evans at the Renner cottage on the Monocacy river, and a tennis tournament will get under way next month, he announced today.

"We want everybody in Littlestown interested in tennis to register for this tournament," Mr. Evans said. He wants these registrations made at the playground by July 20 so that a schedule may be drawn up for the tournament play.

Warning Issued By Littlestown Chief

Many motorists are continuing to park their cars on the left side of the street facing oncoming traffic, despite recent warnings, Chief of Police Leon H. Gage said today.

Many seem to have the mistaken idea that the borough ordinance covering this kind of illegal parking applies only to the main streets, but the chief pointed out that it applies to side streets and alleys as well, and that all offenders will be dealt with according to law. He also stated that parking on the wrong side of the street facing traffic, besides creating a dangerous traffic hazard and violating a borough ordinance, is also a violation of Section 1020 of the State Motor Code, carrying a fine of $10 and costs. At its last meeting, the borough council instructed the burgess and chief of police to enforce strictly the borough ordinance and to arrest those parking on the wrong side of the street.

ADVANCE PLANS ON CELEBRATION

Plans for the Homecoming celebration for veterans of Littlestown and Littlestown R. D., were advanced at a meeting of the general committee in charge, Thursday evening.

In response to popular request, a parade has been included in the program of events to be held Saturday, July 27. The revised program calls for church services in the various churches of the town at 10 a. m.; a memorial service at the playground at 12:45 p. m.; parade, 1 p. m.; baseball game, 3 p. m.; supper for veterans in St. Aloysius' hall, 5 p. m.; band concert by Blue and Gray band of Gettysburg, 7 to 8:30 p. m. at the intersection of Baltimore and Charles street; and a dance in St. Aloysius' hall from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. with music by Johnny Baker's orchestra, of Hanover.

The parade is expected to include floats entered by various industries, business places, and individuals; Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, members of the Borough council and board of education; clergymen of the town and musical organizations.

All those expecting to enter a float in the parade are asked to notify either LeRoy M. Wintrod or P. Emory Weaver by Wednesday evening. The parade will cover the principal streets of the town.

The general committee will meet next Thursday evening at the Legion home to complete plans for the event.

Mrs. Raymond Baker, Scarsdale, N. Y., is visiting her sister and brother, Miss Mabel Gettler and C. E. Gettler.

Vocational Home 'Ec' Teacher Is Elected

Miss Mildred Joanne Mellott, Ambridge, Pa., has been elected vocational home economics teacher for the Littlestown high school, it was announced today by Luther W. Ritter, secretary of the board of education.

Miss Mellott is a graduate of the Indiana State Teachers' college. The Department of Public Instruction recently approved the Littlestown school's change from general home economics to vocational home economics, and the new teacher fills this new berth.

tal a week; and in an English hospital at Bristol for two months. From there he was removed to the Ashford General Hospital, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and was discharged from there on May 15, 1945. He wears the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantry Badge.

Littlestown News Notes

The Fish and Game association held a meeting Wednesday evening in the form of an outing at the Mervin J. Harner farm. Black's Corner. Plans were advanced for the annual carnival to be held at the playground on Friday and Saturday, July 19 and 20. Music will be furnished the first night by the Littlestown high school band, and on the second night by Happy Johnny and this New Show.

The Littlestown VFW post held its semi-monthly meeting on Tuesday evening in the Hollinger Recreation hall.

Members of borough council last at the secretary's office Tuesday evening to tour the town to determine the necessity of repairing crossings and sidewalks.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Reindollar, children, Raymond and Carolyn; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Haare and daughter, Linda, York, visited relatives and friends in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Sneeringer and family, Irishtown, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Emory Weaver.

Misses Mildred and Dorothy Apple returned home Wednesday after spending a ten day vacation in Miami Beach, Florida, with their cousin, Miss Mildred Cochran. They were accompanied by Miss Marie Cochran, Pittsburgh, also their cousin.

LESS NARCOTICS USED IN BERLIN THAN NEW YORK

By HAL BOYLE

Berlin, (P)—Narcotics addiction is less prevalent today in Berlin, a city of fear and frustration, than in New York or Hollywood, where life holds more security.

That is the opinion of Arthur Giuliani, U. S. Military Government Narcotics Control officer and former agent of the Treasury Department's Bureau of narcotics.

"There has been a slight increase in the use of narcotics among professional men, but it hasn't reached the proportions of a major social evil," he said.

This contrasts with the situation in Germany after the first world war, when narcotics addiction became so widespread that the government was forced in 1928 to employ drastic curbs.

Black Market Sideline

"Most of the present day addicts are physicians, victims of neuroses or German war wounded," said Giuliani.

"Very few druggists become addicts. I suppose they see too many victims themselves and what it does to them."

"There is no marijuana smoking here," Giuliani said. "The chief types of addiction are morphine and cocaine and synthetic narcotics made from coal tar."

Powdered opium sells illegally in Berlin's threadbare underworld for $1,200 a pound. So far no organized gangs have been found specializing in supplying the "unnikies" or addicts. Narcotics are just another sideline to black market operators dealing in cigarettes, food and other scarce commodities. Supplies are looted from German army dumps.

Supply Distributed

"The Wehrmacht had literally tons of narcotics—enough to last Germany for at least ten years," said Giuliani. "The supply was scattered throughout the four zones. As the troops retreated they were told to blow up the narcotic dumps. But nine times out of ten they failed to do so."

"Most of it has gotten back into our hands and is being distributed through German channels as the need arises. Our policy is to give captured medical supplies back to the Germans as soon as adequate control agencies are established."

"Germany now is producing enough narcotics in the United States zone to fill present wants within the zone. We don't want to import drugs in to Germany or export from it."

"We list all known narcotics addicts. But the habit isn't nearly as prevalent here as in New York or Hollywood. Our biggest problem is to get back looted supplies and thus keep them from filtering into the black market."

Meat Price War On In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, July 12 (P)—A meat price war is definitely on in the north side with Morris Benjamin, a market owner, and Paul Deaktor, manager of a supermarket, trying to outdo each other.

Benjamin made the first slash, saying "This is one way to bring prices down." He stuck up signs reducing meat prices 10 to 19 cents below downtown quotations and many 5 cents below old OPA ceilings. Deaktor replied with cuts 10 to 20 cents under Benjamin's rates. The customers ate it up; the meat, that is.

Benjamin said he'll cut prices again next week.

Deaktor rejoined, "If he wants to play, we'll play with him. We have 10 stores; he has one."

Allocate $500,000 To Clear Streams

Harrisburg, July 12 (P)—Governor Martin allocated a $500,000 fund today to clear out streams in eight Pennsylvania counties hardest hit by recent floods.

The work, Martin explained, will consist for the most part of deepening stream channels when necessary equipment can be secured by the commonwealth.

The Department of forests and waters listed the counties as Bradford, Cambria, Clinton, Elk, Lycoming, McKean, Potter and Tioga.

State Police To Resume Rodeos

Harrisburg, July 12 (P)—State police rodeos, a wartime casualty, will be resumed this year with exhibitions set for Valley Forge General hospital, Bethlehem and Villanova college.

The hospital date is tentatively set for September 5; Bethlehem, Labor Day, and Villanova, a week later. State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm said the rodeos will be similar to those held annually before the war, including demonstrations of horsemanship learned by police in training.

WOMAN KILLED

Oppose Plan To Vary Aid To States

Harrisburg, July 12 (P)—The state Chamber of Commerce today called upon Pennsylvania congressmen to vote against a proposal which would permit variable grants-in-aid for public assistance to states.

This state would suffer, the chamber said in letters to the solons, "because tax revenues paid into the federal treasury from Pennsylvania would be increasingly used to relieve certain states from their present and proper share of public assistance costs."

SUGGEST 34 AS TOP DRAFT AGE

Washington, July 12 (P)—The army has recommended to President Truman that the top draft age be boosted from 29 to 34 years when induction calls are resumed in September.

Few, if any, men over 26 have been drafted since V-J Day last August.

The War Department recommendation was disclosed today by an official completely familiar with it after the American Council on Education heard an assertion last night that Selective Service expects to "scrape the bottom of the manpower barrel as it's never been scraped before" by next March.

The declaration came from Col. George A. Irwin, chief of the demobilization division of Selective Service, who mentioned only incidentally in the course of his informal address that the army does not want any men over 35.

Heretofore the army has been reluctant to take men over 25, although while the stop-gap draft extension law was in effect from May 15 to June 30 men through 29 were being processed for induction.

Informed of Irwin's new age reference, the official who asked not to be quoted by name said the change of army mind came about because the current draft act bans inductions of 18 year olds, about 25,000 of whom made up the bulk of draft calls in recent months.

Worship with sermon by the Rev. Mr. Leeming at 9 a. m.; Church school at 10 a. m.

State Police To Get Two-Way Car Radios

Harrisburg, July 12 (P)—Award of a contract to the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania for installation of a two-way radio communication system in Pennsylvania State Police cruiser cars was announced today by the Department of Property and Supplies.

The Bell Company offered a bid of $206,950 for the installation and two-year service of the equipment which will enable a state policeman to keep in constant telephonic communication with headquarters regardless of where he is on the state's highways.

Termed by Col. C. M. Wilhelm, police commissioner, an advance in police communications that will aid greatly in crime prevention and detection, the system will be installed in 250 police vehicles with a corresponding number of stationary equipment at barracks and squadron headquarters.

CATTLE—Receipts at the close of this week made up chiefly of grass-fat steers with cows comprising the next largest portion of the day's receipts. Trading in general very active with all interests, including big packer buyers, competing for the day's slaughter cattle supply. All slaughter classes fully steady to strong with earlier this week with instances 25c higher on steers.

In the steer division, the top price of a load of top-grade grass-fat steers that averaged around 1,120 pounds. Several loads and lots of top-grade grassers, covering a wide range of weights, $20.15-21.25 with a truck lot of average-good fed steers, $20.90. Low and average-good grassers, $18-19.50 and a few medium grade arrivals, $16-17.50.

In the heifer division, a load of top-grade grass-fat arrivals around 960 pounds, $20.25, a new high for heifers. Low and average-good grass-fat heifers, $16.50-18 and common and medium arrivals, $13.50-15.50. Smooth, young medium grade cows, $14-15.50 with several high-yielding individuals, $16-16.50. Common cows, carrying fat and flesh but aged and "hippy," $13-15.50. Canners and cutters, $9-11.50 with a few shelly canners, under $9 mark.

Good beef bulls, freely $16.50-17.50 but supply of beef bulls very light. Good weighty sausage bulls, largely $15-15.50 with numerous high-yielding individuals to $16. Light lots of medium and good arrivals, $12-14.50. Stockers and feeders, in moderate supply, fairly active and steady with earlier this week. Several lots of medium and good western stocker and feeder steers, covering a wide range of weights, $14.50-16.50.

CALVES—Vealers, in broad demand, active and steady with Wednesday. The practical top, $20. Mixed lots of good and choice 120-220-pound vealers, $19 mainly $20. Common and medium grades, largely $13.50-17.50, few lots $18. Culls around $10. Receipts of weighty slaughter calves again too meager to warrant a fair test of the market.

SHEEP—Spring lambs active and steady with Wednesday. The practical top and popular price, $20. Mixed lots of good and choice 70-100-pound spring lambs, $19-20. Mixed lots of medium and good arrivals, $16.50-19 and a few common lambs, included in today's receipts, $12. Slaughter ewes, active and steady. Good and choice woolled slaughter ewes, $11 down with comparable shorn ewes, $10 down.

JIGGER MORAN

LAP Newsfeatures

by JOHN ROESBURY

Chapter 26

The Imperial cut through the heat on the road back at a sixty-mile-an-hour clip, with every mile an indecision. Lederer on the floor of the cab looked like a man who had only minutes left, his head and face red-lacquered with dried blood. It would be awkward explaining Lederer's condition. Jigger left the Imperial a discreet fifty yards from a roadside diner and ran for the telephone.

Ahearn's affability dwindled to minus in sixty seconds flat: "What kind of a gag is this, Jigger? I'll do nothing of the kind."

Jigger made it very plain and left the psychological burden with Ahearn: "Lederer's in one mess fifty yards off the road in the bushes. You'll find him on a direct forty-five-degree angle from roadside diner. I got it as a tip from a source I've always found reliable... and don't ask me to disclose my sources. Lederer killed Birdie and Pop Lynch. You'll have to sweat him for proof or wait until something more turns up—if Lederer lives long enough... which he won't unless you whizz up with a police ambulance pronto."

Ahearn was almost tearful: "What'll I want to go and conk him for—and as hard as you did!"

"I didn't conk him. I been in a movie all morning. You can explain it as an anonymous tip. But hurry. The way I was told he looked the whole thing is only fifteen minutes from homicide."

Ahearn's words clapped back, sentences colliding with each other: "If it is homicide, you'll burn and re-burn in the hot seat! I got a hunch you left the razor blades that Joey cut his wrists with."

"You're crazy as a bedbug!" Jigger said, slight shivers going through him.

"Am I? It's queer how Joey got himself a pack of five brand new single-edge blades and a toothbrush with a Gimbles paper bag and a sales slip with forty-nine cents and the date printed right on it like it came out of a register." Ahearn clinched the argument: "The date was the same day you were in to frame him with the dictaphone."

It required a full minute's repose to become caustic: "I suggest you sniff around for what boys in your Department believe bribes are legitimate graft. Get going and get wise, Ahearn, or you and I will be principals in a rewrite of the Becker-Rosenthal case."

Blossom Never greeted Jigger with a will to be young and began to light the fires in her body. Jigger decided to let her have it right from the floor. He flashed his fake police badge and watched the bubbling flame in her face and body go out at once. Blossom gurgling curses was an unclassified Blue Book of four-letter words.

Out of the gurgling emerged a temperate: "So you're a dirty rat of a policeman playing up to me to frame me."

"This isn't a reffer pinch. Blossom. It's a murder rap. Birdie and Lederer killed a doctor named Herz before Lederer killed Birdie. We figure you as at least an accessory."

"You're lying! Why should I believe you?"

Jigger set out to convince her.

her face quizzing every sound he made, every movement of his face: "Lederer killed Birdie to insure that Joey would go to the chair and leave him sole title to Joey's numbers graft. Ask yourself: why should Joey kill Birdie? There was no percentage in it for him."

Blossom was knitting her brow and Jigger continued, "Lederer was afraid Birdie couldn't be trusted with what he knew. He figured Birdie was a cluck, dumb without brains. You know that. I was here the day he yelled it to you straight. Lederer's under arrest and has confessed."

Blossom said in a husky voice, sitting in a crouch, "Lederer turned Birdie's head with talk of big money. Birdie was doing all right until Lederer came along." The great heave of resistance was gone in Blossom.

Jigger said almost courteously, "Let's have it, Blossom. The stage is set for Lederer to roast in the electric chair. I'd like to know what you know."

Blossom spoke in pauses: "Lederer had Birdie going all over the country with a suitcase of stuff... Birdie carried a list of people he was to see and turn the stuff over to."

"You mean leaflets and pamphlets like the package I mailed back to you last week?"

Blossom looked up at him gloomily. "So you was the one who snatched Birdie's valise?"

Jigger nodded, shrugging a friendly what-else-could-I-do shrug. "Yeah. That was Birdie's work for Lederer."

"Lederer was working in with that hatchet-puss Mrs. Herz—so Birdie told me. Their game was to start up trouble anywhere they could."

"Exactly how, Blossom? What else about it did Birdie tip you to?"

Blossom stuck a reffer in her mouth and lit it herself, letting Jigger's match remain burning between his fingers. Jigger prompted, "How did they start up trouble, Blossom? What's the use in closing up on me now?"

"When them Mexicans that wore zoot suits were raising hell in California, Lederer had Birdie ship a trunkful of papers there, most of them printed in Spanish."

Jigger said urgently, "What did the papers say, Blossom?"

"I think I remember Birdie saying the idea was to spread around something about the Mexican kids being beaten up and killed in the police station. Anyhow, whenever the papers said there was doings somewhere, sure as fate Birdie had to go there."

"Where did all that printed poison come from? Who printed it?"

Blossom answered in a tired voice, "From somewhere in the country, I dunno. I don't wanta talk any more, mister."

Jigger pondered and turned away to leave Blossom suspended in the perfection of her finished past.

(To be continued)

Alexandria, July 12 (AP)—Two British naval seamen and two Egyptian were seriously injured during the night when members of a mob tossed two grenades into a British navy truck.

NEWSPRINT IS RAISED AGAIN

Montreal, July 12 (AP)—The price of newsprint began to jump Thurs. and may reach a point 20 per cent higher than yesterday's rate within the near future.

The Abitibi Power and Paper Company, one of Canada's three largest producers, announced an increase of $6.80 a ton over the previous price of $67 in New York, and other companies are expected to follow suit.

Another increase of about 10 per cent to bring the price to around $80 is looked for in the near future to cover increased labor costs. The $6.80 increase announced by Abitibi was said to cover only the company's loss on the change in the value of the Canadian dollar, effected last Friday.

The newsprint industry, for which Montreal is the capital, says it is determined to avoid such a price sky-rocketing as occurred in the early 1920's when a peak of $120 was reached in the spot market. However, it feels it can no longer delay a substantial increase over the regulated ceilings in effect during the war.

Cynthiana, Ky., July 12 (AP)—A span of a 200-foot covered bridge at Lair collapsed and fell into South Licking river yesterday 30 minutes after it had been condemned by the state highway department. The bridge, built in 1870, had been in constant use until it was condemned.

Blossom looked up at him gloomily. "So you was the one who snatched Birdie's valise?"

Jigger nodded, shrugging a friendly what-else-could-I-do shrug. "Yeah. That was Birdie's work for Lederer."

"Lederer was working in with that hatchet-puss Mrs. Herz—so Birdie told me. Their game was to start up trouble anywhere they could."

RED PAPER RAPS CORRESPONDENT FOR N.Y. TIMES

Moscow, July 12 (AP)—The official newspaper Pravda asserted Thursday that Brooks Atkinson, former New York Times correspondent in Moscow, was an "untalented slanderer," "a gangster of the pen" and a "product of the stock exchange and black market."

The Pravda writer, David Zaslavsky, criticized Atkinson for saying he found "an iron curtain" in Russia and that this term is a "devilishly appropriate expression."

The Pravda writer said Atkinson was a writer who "jumps out" after living "ten months behind that infamous 'curtain.'"

The Pravda article continued: "What a sensation! Pricking up their ears and straining their eyes, the trusting American people are ready to know the secrets of the de-screened world. But there awaits them deep disappointment." Atkinson was quoted as saying "in Moscow exists no kind of new ideas, everything old is repeated with regularity, leading to dullness. The general level of the theaters, art and music are low. In the main, all kinds of arts bear a reactionary, dying character in which there is nothing of vitality."

The Pravda writer retorted: "Bandits of Pen"

"These words witness that 'our correspondent' from one New York institution understands as much about the ideas and arts as another of 'our correspondents' from the Chicago stockyards understands about oranges. But let Atkinson's philosophy and esthetics remain with him. What is important is that he was weary in Moscow, saw nothing new and what he did see seemed to him old and reactionary. But in this case, why the 'iron curtain'?"

The Pravda article said Atkinson's articles were evidences of demands of the "newspaper monopoly capitalists" for "freedom of the press."

"They demand full freedom for slanders and lies," the Pravda article asserted. "They want to establish as international law the irresponsibility of swindlers and bandits of the pen."

A series of three articles by Atkinson, giving his opinions of Russia based on his ten months stay in Moscow, were published in the New York Times this week.

DEMAND REVIEW OF VETO RULE IN UN ASSEMBLY

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH
 New York, July 12 (AP)—A formal Australian demand for review of the veto rule by the United Nations general assembly occupied the attention of U. N. delegates after Soviet Russia had tried to use the veto Wednesday to bar Canada from security council deliberations on atomic energy.

The Russian move was blocked by a ruling by Council Chairman Francisco Castillo Najera of Mexico, but Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko's grim insistence that he would again seek to veto Canada's attendance spurred a campaign for restriction of the veto power to major questions bearing on the most serious and urgent matters affecting the peace.

President Retires
 Australian Foreign Minister Herbert V. Evatt, who sought to convince Gromyko in heated debate on and off the council floor Wednesday that he could not exclude Canada willy-nilly, led the campaign by formally requesting that the veto rule be listed for discussion by the general assembly in September.

Visibly elated over the success of challenging maneuvers he led to block Gromyko's latest veto attempt, Evatt indulged in a whimsical paraphrase before the council: "Sufficient to the day is the veto thereof."

The remark prefaced his salutation to Dr. Castillo Najera, who is retiring from the council presidency after Mexico's one-month term in the chair—a month in which the council experienced its stormiest session two weeks ago when Gromyko fired a volley of three vetoes on the Spanish issue.

CONVICT 73 GERMANS

Dachau, Germany, July 12 (AP)—Seventy-three Waffen SS veterans, including three generals, were found guilty by an American military court Thursday of the slaughter of 900 American war prisoners and Belgian civilians in the battle of the Bulge.

Veteran Is Found Lying On Highway

A man giving his name as Houston L. Johnson of Kansas City, Mo., and who is apparently a discharged World War II veteran was found this morning lying on the berm of the York Springs highway just north of Cross Keys in a dazed condition.

State police, who are conducting an investigation, said Johnson believed he had been hit but was very vague about the entire matter. There was no evidence about his body to show he may have been struck, police say.

After being treated by Dr. Wilbur Miller, New Oxford, Houston was taken to the Hanover hospital.
